Amber

A complete dinnerware set was available in Tiara's Amber Sandwich along with a large assortment of accessory items. One of the most popular purchases was the glo lamp, commonly referred to as a fairy lamp. The Amber glo lamp was available in Tiara Exclusives catalogs from 1975 until 1991.

Tiara named their amber color "Gold" or "Golden Amber," but collectors most often refer to it as simply "Amber." Amber Sandwich glass was offered by Tiara throughout the 1970s and 1980s. Tiara's Amber Sandwich glass selection peaked in the early 1980s. Both Fall 1981 and Fall 1982 catalogs included more than 40 pieces of Amber Sandwich. The Fall 1984 Tiara catalog displayed over 30 Amber Sandwich items.

The console set was a special frequently used in Tiara's Sandwich pattern. The pieces in a console set varied depending upon the promotion. The #571 console set, a November 1979 hostess gift, was a smooth rim salad bowl and a pair of footed, sherbet shape candleholders. The bowl and candleholders were available individually in a Fall 1979 catalog supplement. The April 1989 console set #276 included one crimped salad bowl and a pair of tall candleholders. In October 1990, the #580 console set consisted of a large Amber Sandwich basket and a pair matching tall candleholders. The #218 console set included one smooth rim console bowl and two short candleholders. Other console set combinations were available at different times.

Amber Sandwich was phased out during the early 1990s. In 1991, a small selection of Amber Sandwich was available in the regular line. A few other Amber pieces appeared as temporary monthly specials. The 1991 regular line pieces included:

- #219 Candle Lamp, made of a short candleholder with a clear glass globe and adapter
- #233 Small Canister, measuring 5-5/8" high
- #237 Glo Lamp
- #241 Wine Set, consisting of the decanter, tray, and six goblets
- #246 Candle Votive, measuring 3-1/2" high
- #281 Medium Canister, measuring 7-1/2" high

By 1992, the Amber Sandwich line no longer appeared in regular catalogs.
